F.C. DUERSON AGENT, This City

A Citizen Speaks to the Board of Public Safety.

The Jefferson county grand jury say they cannot become detectives in order to locate gambling dens and fix the illegal proceedings on any gambler and asks the good citizens and press to lend their aid by giving such information as is needed to bring them before the courts. To this a citizen speaks out in public print. We add a few thoughts hoping that they may prove helpful to the city of Mt. Sterling, to Montgomery county grand juries.

WAITED PATIENTLY.

I have waited patiently four whole days since the plea of the grand jury was published, to see if some one, if not all of you, city officials sworn to do your duty, would not resent the affront that has been put upon you by this publication, but not a murmur has been heard that has passed beyond the walls of the City Hall. Your righteous indignation, if aroused, has evidently been directed into channels that "consumed its own smoke." While one of your number, no doubt, become callous through similar experience in years past, yet I did have a faint spark of hope that the others might have sufficient discernment, and not so utterly indifferent to public opinion, as to let pass unrebuked such an arraignment of yourselves, individually and collectively, as the appeal of the grand jury certainly is, in the eyes of the thinking public, whether it was so intended or not.

KNOWS GAMBLING EXISTS.

What greater indictment can the public be made? In my opinion, none, short of actual criminal proceedings. I will say to you, as I said to your official predecessors in office (who were as skillful in avoiding the suppressing of gambling as you could ever hope to be) that "you know, and I know, and every man sane in Louisville knows, that gambling does not exist in this city, and you, in your official capacity, as members of the Board of Public Safety, are in one of the three following conditions. Either unwilling to suppress gambling for reasons best known to yourselves, too innocent and unsuspecting to live in so large a town or grossly incompetent to take proper steps to suppress it; and therefore unfit to hold your present positions on the board.

GAMBLING MUST STOP.

Things cannot go on forever as they are, and there are men in this town today, with as good staying qualities as you will find anywhere on earth, and they say that gambling shall cease, and if you, as officials sworn to do your duty, fail in it you will not be overlooked in the round up.

Practically, in conclusion let me say that if you do realize that it is time for you to move, all you have to do will be to order the Chief of Police to put into effect the rules I presented to your board last year relative to patrolmen investigating places where gambling is reported to them as being carried on, and reporting same to the grand jury then in session, and you will either close all the gambling dens have a great many vacancies in your police force. I firmly believe in the former, as I am satisfied the police will do their duty if given to understand that the new rules must go. If you do not happen to have the rules I presented, I shall be glad to furnish you with a copy, and when adopted, will send you a list showing every place in the city where gambling is alleged to exist. This list may not be necessary, as in your official capacity it would seem natural only that such infor-with fine dust. A black rain followed, a rain of Favilla scoriae, rocks and stones. There were bright flashes, numerous and marvelously rapid. These, with thundering the mountain shocks, the earthquake roar, the lava and falling stones, created a scene of horror. Large areas of cultivation have been buried beneath the volcanic matter. On the windward coast seven plantations are totally destroyed. Nothing green is visible.

Sixteen hundred and twenty deaths are already reported. There are 167 cases in the hospitals at Georgetown under treatment. The deaths have been caused chiefly by suffocation by the sulphurous gas, lightning and burning lava masses. Few of the cases in the hospital are likely to recover. The crew of H. M. S. Indefatigable buried thirty peasants found dead on the Owia estate, north of Soufrière.

A new crater is reported formed on the Richmond estate near the seashore.

The country districts on the windward coast are littered with dead bodies.

Kingston, the capital, and the whole population, are safe. There have been no accidents or deaths.

Clouds of dust are blowing over the city, however. The royal mail steamer Wear is transporting food and water to the leeward coast, sailing vessels proceed to the windward coast on the same errand. Doctors and nurses have gone to the scenes of distress.

The majority of the corpses being found are covered with ashes, decomposed and hardly approachable. The dead are being buried in trenches, thirty in each.

mation should reach you, but if you desire it I will gladly send it.

MAY GO TO THE COURTS.

I have no apology whatever to make for thus addressing you in the public prints, instead of privately. It is a public matter. In the foolish hope that this administration might do something in this matter, and not wishing to hamper it in its first months of office, I have waited since you were appointed, to see if you would do your sworn duty, and now the citizens of Louisville who are interested in this matter propose, after thus calling your attention to your duty, if you do not perform it you will be treated to such legal administration of the matter as your failure to act justifies. A word to the wise is sufficient. It remains to be seen what a 'word' to you signifies.

Fair Circuit.

The Fair Secretaries' Association of Kentucky was organized at Lexington last Tuesday with W. O. Gaines, of Georgetown, as president; and Frank P. Kenny, of Lexington, secretary and treasurer. Those present were M. W. Neal, representing the Interstate Fair, Louisville; H. L. Hamilton, Elks Fair Association, Maysville; David R. Davis, Richmond Elks' Fair; G. R. Speer, Anderson County Fair Association, Lawrenceburg; Will O. Gaines, Georgetown Elks' Fair; H. Z. Churchill, Elizabethtown Elks' Fair Association. It is also believed that Winchester, Springfield, Horse Cave, Alexander, Florence, and other fairs will come into the association. By the establishment of a regular fair circuit it is thought that there will be much less difficulty and expense in the secretaries securing attractions.

Following are the fair dates as arranged by the association.

Richmond, third week in July.

Georgetown, fourth week in July.

Hurstbourne, fifth week in July.

Lexington, first week in August.

Montgomery, second week in August.

Maysville and Lawrenceburg, third week in August.

Shelbyville and Germantown, fourth week in August.

Bardstown and Glasgow, first week in September.

Elizabethtown and Bowling Green, second week in September.

Interstate Fair, Louisville, fourth week in September.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Messengers returning from the recent annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention which met in Asheville, N. C., are enthusiastic in their praises of Asheville as a meeting place for conventions, and especially laud in their commendation of the justly celebrated Southern Railway for its masterly handling of the great crowds in attendance upon the convention. Passing through the most charming scenery in the world, this road furnishes easily the best service in the entire south. Hence, it is no wonder the various delegations were invited. The convention was a great meeting. Five or six thousand Baptists were in attendance. The churches, boards and missionaries had all had a prosperous year, and came up to the annual gathering full of enthusiasm. The Sunday-school Board showed a business of about $95,000—an increase of nearly $11,000 over the year before, while the Home Board reported cash contributions amounting to $100,000, which employed 674 missionaries who had received into their mission churches 17,000 members. This Board has forty missionaries in Cuba. The Foreign Mission Board reported cash received $173,000 and 300 missionaries in foreign fields. Twenty new men had been sent out during the year. There were 15,000 baptisms on the foreign field. The largest number being in Japan. The woman's Misionary Union had a great year, raising $88,000. Dr. McConnell's convention sermon was one of the greatest in the history of the convention. Ex-Gov. J. P. Eagle of Arkansas, was chosen President and made a model presiding officer. Work was laid out for next year on a basis of 25 per cent increase, and it is confidently expected to go beyond that.

The next meeting goes to Savannah, Ga., a good town, entered by the Southern Railway, hence any who attend may expect the same excellent service of this year. The Sunday of the convention was given up to preaching, almost every pulpit in the city being occupied by some visiting preacher. Of those who preached twelve were from Kentucky.

TO SUCCEED HIMSELF.

It will be observed under the head of announcements that our esteemed contemporary, John C. Wood, desires to again represent the people in the capacity of Railroad Commissioner. Really the position is an envious one, and while it is a fact the duties do not require all of the officials time, it is a responsible place, one to be filled only by our most honorable men.

John Wood is serving his second term, and since neither the people nor the railroads have cause for complaint, we must conclude Mr. Wood has made a just official. That Mr. Wood has been a middle man considering what would be best for both the people and the roads has been demonstrated by his action here, causing a guard to be placed at the crossing of the C. & O. and the Owingsville and Mt. Sterling turnpike. The company suggested a patent alarm, but Mr. Wood reasoned this way: The alarm has not in all cases proven effective, and for any accident that may occur because of its failure to respond both the road and the Railroad Commission would be responsible, and in his opinion the man at the crossing would be a better protection for both the company and the public.

As was his action in this case, so it has been in all. The company accepted his reasoning and a friendly spirit prevails between company, the public and Commissioners. He is a friend of the railroads, is loyal to the people, true of heart and mind, above suspicion.

The Republican party has given Kentucky a clean man in Mr. Wood and would make no mistake in re-nominating him. So free from partisanship has his conduct and to the interest of all concerned that the people would think a Democrat was holding the throttle lever.

EUROPEAN EDITORS

WILL COOMEY.

In a letter written at Lucerne, Switzerland, to the World's Fair Committee, St. Louis, Walter Williams, editor of the Columbia, Mo., Herald, tells of his World's Fair promotion work in Germany. After leaving Berlin he visited Nittenberg, Halle, Dresden, Cologne, Bonn, Coblenz, Mayance, Nuremberg, Heidelberg and Freiburg. He writes: "I find a wholesome interest in the Exposition. The suggested World's Fair parliament of editors takes well with the newspaper people. The most influential Berlin editors, with scarcely an exception, will attend. Among those who positively promised were: Alexander von Huhn, of the Vossische Zeitung; Dr. Hermann Cardanus, of the Koelnische Zeitung (Cologne); Privy Councillor Dr. W. Lauser, of the Imperial Order at Berlin; Dr. Hugo von Kupfer, of the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, and some twenty others."

If the World's Fair would make a big hit there should be set apart a time early after the opening when America's city editors should meet the distinguished visitors, and this followed by another period when the rural editors would take the day. In fact we would like to see the country press pull with the great ones of our American press and to read their editorial in parallel columns.

COMPREHENSIVE.

The following notice is to be seen over a little country store in Georgia: Jonathan Wilkins. Ice cream in season and embalming on reasonable cash terms. Also millinery and tooth pulling. Boots, shoes, books and bacon. Coffins on the installment plan.

There are business men who would try to think for a year and make a worse job than this. Whom does this catch? Everyone of average comprehensive powers, the advertiser has some good stuff in his make up and to his place of business they will go. What is your stuff? Put it on exhibition.

WANTED.

"The world wants men—
Large-hearted, manly men;
Men who shall join its chorus and prolong—
The psalm of labor and the psalm of love.
The age wants heroes—
Heroes who shall dare to struggle in the solid ranks of truth;
To clutch the monster error by the throat;
To bear opinion to a loftier seat;
To blast the error of oppression out;
And lead a universal freedom in."

The above is the production of a man with a practical thinker. He has knowledge of the needs at the bar, among physicians, educators, scientists, politicians, editors—in every calling from the man at the pick to the preacher in the pulpit.

The world wants men to prolong the song of the honest broadwinner that every stroke may become one of content, that the home may be resonant with love's praises. With true men at the heads we have heroes—men who will stand for right, uphold existing laws in the protection of life, liberty and property. Bickerings, backbitings, knocking, jealousies would become subjects for the historian's pen.

O, for men, for heroes!

PUSH AHEAD.

The wise business man has no time for lamenting past failures—he throws all his energy into making a success of the present and future.

It was a man representing a business who was hurrying down the street. Where are you going? To see a man was the reply. He saw him and they discussed and resolved and there drove a pin. That was the end. Many are the discussions and resolutions and fewer the doings. Push ahead!

SILVER DEAD.

Senator Stuart, speaking on the Philippine Government bill, took occasion to say the silver question was a dead issue because of the large output of gold. Such an admission is conclusive evidence that the silver question, as argued by Bryan and his followers was correct though now dead. The volume of basal money was one of the great arguments and one of the most convincing. It has yet to be answered by the single standard opposition of that day.

Gymnastics

Will do much to develop a muscular body. But the strength of the body is not to be measured by muscle, but by its blood. If you are strong, then, the body, in spite of its bulk and brawn, falls an easy prey to disease.

There is no medicine equal to Doctor Pierce's Goldenseal Tea as a remedy for the purifying of the blood. It carries off the poisons which contaminate the blood fluid. It increases the activity of the blood, gives the body an increased supply of pure, body-building blood, and builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh instead of fat, gives the appetite, feeds the nerves, and so gives to weak, nervous people vitality and vigor.

There is no alcohol greater than "Golden Seal Tea," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

"I feel it my duty to write to you of the wonderful powers of Golden Seal Medical Discovery," writes George S. Henderson. "I had a bad cold, and my blood was thin out of my right ear and my blood was thin out of my left ear. I wrote you with good results. Finally I wrote you particulars in my case and you advised me to take. From the first bottle I began to feel better, and after the second bottle my condition was headed up. I wish you success."

Pierce's Goldenseal Tea, in a special receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expenses of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CORRESPONDENCE

SALT LICK.

W. J. Fell has returned from Pittsburgh.

Work will begin this week on the telephone line from here to Yale.

There are many cases of measles here. Several older persons have been confined to their rooms with them.

Saturday morning while shooting one of the new wells at Ragland too much water was left in the well and the charge blew out the casing and top of the derrick, but no one was hurt.

Several new machines will be here in a few days to bore in the Ragland field and around here.

An attempt was made to rob our bank last week, but from all appearances the would-be robbers were amateurs. Mr. Vice's shop was first broken into, and securing his tools it is supposed they went to the bank about 3 o'clock a. m. Only one dollar was lost, it being left in the cash drawer. The tools were left on the floor in the bank.

Mrs. Lou Ratliff and Mrs. Lizzie Burbridge spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Ratliff last week.

Mrs. Andrew Cheap visited friends in Olive Hill last week.

Oliver Lewis caught a fish last Friday out of Licking river weighing forty-eight pounds. Several weighing from twenty to forty pounds have been landed in the last week.

The big tank at Ragland is almost full. When full the number of barrels it will contain will be 56,000.

Miss Lena Robbins who has been quite sick for the past few weeks is now out again.

Jess McCarty has about recovered from a spell of fever.

Sufficient.

Consul Ayme telegraphs that the supplies now afloat are sufficient to satisfy the necessities of volcano victims in Martinique and suggests that public subscriptions in the United States cease at once.

For Sewing Machines and all kinds of repairs see R. F. GREENE, at Singer Sewing Machine office.

At Play.

There was another lively debate in the House on the Philippine question, during which the "compromised" resolutions adopted by the Indians G. A. R. came in for considerable discussion. Pending the consideration of the Naval Bill Mr. Cannon and Mr. Hepburn protested against the number of naval officers on shore duty, and Mr. Williams created laughter by reading a poem describing Admiral Crowninshield as "the greatest tar that ever stayed ashore."

The L. H. and St. Louis (Henderson Route) are preparing to do a large excursion business from July 31st to August 12th, from all points on their line, to the new Owensboro Chautauqua. Nothing like it has ever come to Kentucky. For twelve days the very best and most attractive Chautauqua features are to be placed in the beautiful Seven Hills Park, near Owensboro, which is almost bounded by this popular line of railway. Every good taste has been catered to. There will be popular lectures by Gen. Gordon, Gen. Wheeler, Dr. MacArthur, Gov. Bob Taylor, H. W. Sears, Mrs. Rorer, of the Ladies Home Journal, Miss Eliza M. Stone, the ransomed missionary, Lieut. Hobson, Dr. John MacNeil, the Scottish Spurgeon, and scores of others; and every day and every evening will be given a series of the most delightful entertainments consisting of everything from slight of hand and jugglery, to the highest class of popular music and moving pictures.

Farmers and their families will be especially interested in the coming of John M. Stahl, Secretary of the National Farmers Congress, and every evening a great pyrotechnic display will be given by La Rose's electric fountain, two feet larger than the one shown at the Worlds Fair.

Remember that the Henderson Route, the most popular passenger line in Kentucky, will give you full and complete information about the additional features of this assembly, through any of their agents, or you can write to the Superintendent of the Chautauqua, Dr. W. G. Archer, Owensboro, Ky., and he will send you a special booklet containing full information as to camping and living privileges, and the complete programme. L. J. Irwin, General Passenger Agent.

Control.

J. P. Morgan & Co., having purchased the controlling interest in the Monon, are now considering the financing of the merger with the Louisville and Nashville and the Southern. It is reported that the conversion price of the stock will be $74 for the preferred and 77½ for the common. The present management of the Monon, it is said, is not being consulted in the deal.

Hatchet and Cherry Tree.

Mr. Chas. Ragan, of the county, with his little hatchet, was up in a cherry tree Thursday morning chopping off some limbs, when one of them broke, throwing him to the ground, his shoulders striking a log and bruising them considerably. He was not seriously injured.

Attraction.

The World's Fair Band will play at the Lexington Elks' Fair this year, Aug. 11-16. This band has a national reputation acquired by having played at Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, California mid-winter fair and Omaha exposition. The Elks' are starting out for real success.

Jews' Sabbath.

It has been a suit-selling season in the $15, $18 and $20 grade. The people are coming here for the better grades. You know the shoddy tailors are on the work, and the good ready-to-wear clothes are taking their legitimate seats among the best there are. Quite a few of these $15, $18 and $20 Suits in broken lots and odd sizes that we are filling in the $10 lines. Among them are Scotchies, Cheviots and Serges. Cut in two-button double-breasted Sacks, three-button double-breasted Sacks, four-button Sacks and three-button Sacks, military or no, as you would have it, and the make is in the Walsh way, hand-padded and put on collars haircloth shade holding fronts, double stitched and in the style of the minute. We don't want to dictate but you had better come here if you want the best. We don't want to suggest, but would be pleased to help you make a good selection.

Public Auction of Good Investment Real Estate.

The W. W. Halbert, or Ross property, will be sold to highest bidder at 2 o'clock p. m. Saturday, May 31. Five lots and two cottages will be offered on corner East Main and Willow streets. Conveyances will be standing in front of office of T. F. Rogers to carry prospective buyers to the sale. The above property is adapted for manufacturing or business purposes, having never failing water on the grounds, or building additional cottages to meet the increasing demand for rental homes, nearly in heart of our city.

By T. F. ROGERS, Agent.

A Heavy Loss.

The lard refinery of Armour & Co., in the Union stockyards, Chicago, was destroyed by fire. During the progress of the fire seven people were hurt by the collapse of a viaduct. Four of them probably will die. The property loss approximates $900,000.

A Card of Thanks.

We the families of H. L. Lane and S. T. Greene do so much thank the dear people for their kindness during this time of sorrow. May God bless them and ever be with them is our earnest prayer.

Those in Grief.

On the witness stand in St. Louis Charles H. Turner, president of the Suburban Railway, admitted that a boodle fund was raised to buy the votes of members of the House of Delegates.

Mr. Nellie Adams, daughter of M. L. Goldsmith, a Frankfort merchant, was shot and fatally wounded by her invalid and jealous husband in St. Louis.

Don't Do It.

Don't buy, sell nor rent real estate; nor insure your property till you have seen H. Clay McKee & Co.

It pays to buy, sell or rent property through a long established agency. It pays to have the best Fire Insurance and costs no more than that which is doubtful. H. Clay McKee & Co. have it.

Horses Wanted.

Cannot Indict a Court.

The Court of Appeals, in an opinion by Justice O'Rear, affirmed the judgment of the Boyle Circuit Court in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Boyle County Fiscal Court.

The Fiscal Court was indicted for allowing the Danville & Perryville turnpike to become a nuisance on account of its bad condition of repair. A demurred to the indictment was sustained. This court holds proper, the court, and not the members thereof, having been indicted.

Storm in Louisville.

For five minutes Tuesday afternoon, May 18, a windstorm amounting almost to a cyclone, held Louisville in its grasp. There was a brilliant electrical accompaniment and in some sections of the city a terrific downpour of hail. In the twinkling of an eye damage amounting to probably $50,000 had resulted. Houses were unroofed, chimneys blown to the ground and telegraph, telephone and electric light poles snapped off like straws.

The Columbia, which sailed from Boston in September, 1878, was the first ship that carried the Stars and Stripes completely round the world.

The first cargo of wheat from the United States to England since the British government imposed a duty on wheat imported paid $3,000.

THE NEW GAS MAIN

Is now completed from the Plant to Maysville street, and the service is improved over the whole system by reason of the new supply main, which has a capacity of four times the old pipe. Other extensions of new mains will be made as rapidly as possible.

GAS REDUCED TO $1.50.

On July 1st the price of gas was reduced to $1.50 per thousand cubic feet. The new service is guaranteed to be satisfactory. Minimum charge, 3 cents per month. No expense for connecting up if your place is piped and has service pipe to the curb.

DESCRIPTION

BAY STALLION, STAR-SIZED, BRED PAPER, WHITE, 15 1/2 HANDS HIGH, FOAL IN 1882. HIS FATHER WAS A WELL MADE HORSE WITH PLenty OF substance AND QUALITY. AN EXCELLENTLY WELL-BRED HORSE, AND A HIGH-CLASS RACE HORSE. SECURED BY HIS RECORD IN A FIVE-HEAT WINNING RACE, AND WAS ONLY BEATEN IN 2:10 1/4 BY BUT A FEW FEET. ST. VINCENT'S OPPORTUNITIES HAVE NOT BEEN "GOLD"; HE HAS BUT FEW FOALS OUT OF GOOD MARES. HIS LIST OF PERFORMERS ARE ALL TROTTERS. HE HAS NEVER SHRIEKED A Pacer. Lord Vincent 2:08<sup>1</sup>, by him, is everything considered, one of the very best trotters of the present day. He was far from being a sound horse, still, even in this condition, he raced better and strung harder than most horses that are free from soreness. ST. VINCENT WILL GET GREAT TROTTERS, FOR IN THE LAST TWO YEARS HE HAS HAD A BETTER CLASS OF MARES. I LIKE HIS BREEDING AND AM CONFIDENT THAT HE WILL SIRE GREAT RACE HORSES.

Lexington's Oldest Doctor Dead.

Doctor Lyman Beecher Todd, aged seventy, the oldest physician of Lexington, is dead. He was a first cousin of President Lincoln's wife and was present when Lincoln was shot and also at his deathbed. He was a member of the Filson Club, at Louisville, and had in various articles made valuable contributions to Kentucky history.

"I had a running sore on my breast for over a year," says Dr. Richard C. Dyer, of Louisville. "I tried a great many remedies, but got relief until I used Bane's Salve. After using half a box I was perfectly cured. I cannot recommend it to highly."

THE TWO SINNERS.

A Story of Real Up-to-date Life.

She was a woman, worn and thin, whom the world condemned for a single sin. They cast her out of the king's highway, and passed her by as they went to pray. She was a man and more to blame. But the world spared him a breath of shame. Beneath his feet he saw her lie, but he raised his head and passed her by. They were the people who went to pray, at the temple of God on the holy day. They scorned the woman, forgave the man; 'twas ever thus since the world began. Time passed on and the woman died; on a cross of shame she was crucified. The world was stern, and would not yield, and they buried her in the potter's field. The man died, too, and they buried him in a casket of cloth with a silver braid, and said, as they turned from the grave away, "We have buried a noble man today." Two mortals knocked at heaven's gate, stood face to face, to inquire their fate. He carried a passport with an earthly sign, but a pardon from love divine. Of ye who judge twixt virtue and vice, which think ye entered paradise? Not he whose the world had alone would win, for the woman alone was ushered in.

Mighty Good.

A delicious fruit charlotte russe may be made as follows: Half a box of gelatine, one cupful of strawberry juice, two eggs, one quarter pound of stale macaroons, one-half cupful of cold water, three quarters of a cupful of sugar and one and one-half cupfuls of cream.

Cover the gelatine with the cold water and let it stand for one half hour. Heat the strawberries, if fresh, until the juice begins to come from them, then add the sugar and cook to a light syrup. Press through a sieve and return to the stove to heat. Beat the yolks of eggs light and add the hot syrup, beating all the time. Return to the double boiler and cook two minutes, then add the gelatine and macaroons and pour on to the beaten whites of the eggs, stirring continuously. Whip the cream to a stiff froth, beat in the fruit and egg mixture, and turn into a mold previously wet with cold water to harden. Garnish with fruit or jelly.

Try it and send us a saucer. We can tell if directions were followed strictly.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Question of Jurisdiction.

A judgment of the Flemington Circuit Court in the case of J. D. Wyatt, County Judge, against John Ryan and others, was reversed by the Court of Appeals. Judge Hosen delivered the opinion. The action was by the appellants for a mandamus to compel the County Judge to call an election on the question of local option in the town of Flemington. The court below sustained the appellees and the judgment appealed. The court here, in reversing, holds that the jurisdictional facts should have been established before the County Judge would have been warranted in making the order for an election.

UNCLE SAM'S DOLLS.

NATIONAL MUSEUM at Washington employs an Expert to Make Them.

The most expert dollmaker in the United States is employed by the national museum, at Washington. His name is William Palmer, and his dolls are usually life size. They are used to illustrate various races of mankind, being arranged in groups for that purpose and clad in suitable costumes. Several of the groups were on exhibition at the great fair in Buffalo, and attracted much attention, particularly one which showed half a dozen Eskimos who had just captured a seal. The Eskimos were in great glee, and even their dogs (stuffed in a lifelike manner) seemed to be enjoying the fun.

In making one of these dolls at the national museum Mr. Palmer first makes a "sketch" in clay—that is to say, a nude figure in miniature, roughly done in the attitude desired for the manikin, which is to be of full human size.

Using this as a guide, pieces of plank are sawed out for the body and legs. To the body part a cross-piece is fastened for the shoulders and another for the hips, then the legs and arms are attached to it by bolts or hinges. Next, the body is provided with ribs of thick wire and the skeleton is fashioned.

Burlap is now stretched over the ribs and on the outside of this are applied layers of excisor, by sewing and wrapping with twine. The legs are stuffed and wrapped the same way, only the head and hands requiring, as a rule, to have the appearance of flesh. Some savages, however, are only partly clothed and the process with them is somewhat different.

The hands are used as plaster casts of, her hands. If the arms are to be bare they are made of plaster or papier mache; otherwise they are of wood. The head is usually modeled in clay, life size, of course, and cast in plaster, after which it, as well as the neck, hands and other exposed parts, is painted to the complexion required.

Finally the head is sent to a wigmaker, who makes a wig for it, after which it only remains to put the parts together. Once made, to dress it is easy enough. With a photograph of a man or woman of any nation or tribe and a complete native costume, there is no difficulty in turning out a doll that is a fairly accurate likeness of the original.—N. Y. Herald.

HISTORIC DOUBT RAISED
Respecting the Duke of Wellington's
Duel with Lord Winchilsea.

An historic duel has been raised respecting the duke of Wellington's duel with Lord Winchilsea. In the official life of the duke, Sir Herbert Maxwell's, the account runs as follows: "The duke leveled his pistol at once, but, seeing that Lord Winchilsea did not move, seemed to hesitate for a moment, and then purposely fired wide of him." To this statement a note is appended: "It ought to be recorded that Lord Winchilsea had written to Lord Falmouth overnight to say that it was his determination not to fire at the duke, and that after the first fire he should offer the expression of regret which he would then be ready to make." But Mr. David Grant writes to the London Daily News to offer another version. He declares: Shortly after the duel a friend met Wellington in the street, and after congratulating him on the satisfactory termination of the meeting, said: "Did you really intend to hit Winchilsea?" Hit him? said the duke, "of course I did. If I hadn't done so, every silly jackass who wanted a little cheap notoriety would have sent me a challenge. Now they'll leave me alone." Whatever Wellington actually did on "the field of honor," the language attributed to him in the above sounds uncommonly like his habitual speech. But we have his own complaint that he was "much exposed to authors," and it may simply be that another one has now put words in his mouth.—N. Y. Post.

Dogs Disguised as Babies.

Dogs imported into England are at present subject to a strict police supervision for several weeks as if their owners were government spies. So great, it is said, is the annoyance of ladies at having to leave behind their treasured pets that a rumor has lately become current in the French papers to the effect that some pet dogs have been smuggled into England disguised as babies.

The number of cases of smallpox in London has reached 6,000 and the number of deaths from it, 1,000.

STRANGE "DEATH APPETITE."

INSTANTANEOUS CRAVING FOR FOOD WHICH ATTACKED A CONDEMNED MURDERER.

"Death appetite" is the name by which keepers designate the strange, morbid craving for food which attacked a condemned murderer in jail at Camden, N. J., says the New York World.

Samuel Van Stevoren was hanged for wife murder April 8. About the time the death watch was set Van Stevoren developed one of the most abnormal and at the same time capricious appetites ever given to a man under sentence of death.

Van Stevoren's keeper defines his strange craving as "the death appetite."

"To a certain extent all condemned murderers develop this abnormal appetite before death," he said to a reporter for the Sunday World.

"At least all the men I have ever handled have had it, although none perhaps to quite the extent that Van Stevoren suffers."

"It's death, the terrible, haunting, nerve-racking fear of death working on them that sets every faculty of mind and body on a rack. They eat, not so much because they care for food, but simply to satisfy a torture-some craving for something. The nerves of the stomach are disordered by the strain of the death fear, just as all the other nerves of the body are unstrung. The nerves cry out, and thus produces a sensation like hunger. This is the only explanation I know for it, but the fact, I feel pretty sure, will be vouched for by anybody who has had the care of men condemned to death."

"Of course a secondary reason may be found in the fact that eating diverts the mind of the prisoner a little, just as do card playing and walking the floor."

"I have never seen a condemned murderer yet that didn't eat well and sleep well."

Van Stevoren, like every prisoner upon whom the death watch was set, was allowed all the favors that mercy concedes to justice. Among these was the privilege of ordering anything to be had at the restaurant which supplies the inmates of the Camden jail.

"Let Van Stevoren have anything on the restaurant bill of fare. If he can get the money, let him buy whatever he wants at other places," ordered Sheriff Sells, when he heard "that the death appetite" had seized the prisoner.

Van Stevoren smiled and rubbed his hands together in a satisfied way when the order was made known to him.

"Fiat? Why, you never saw a man that can eat the things that I'll have sent from now on," he declared.

He began at once to make out a menu, and the writing of four of these daily was one of the chief solaces of existence. He wrote them on slips of paper, often a day or so ahead, and every order was enough in quantity to supply a whole family of ordinary eaters.

TURKISH RUGS.

WHOLESALE PURCHASERS NEVER KNOW QUALITY OF GOODS THEY BUY.

Turkish rugs are sold by the bale as they enter the custom house, and the purchaser has no opportunity to examine them. He must take them as they come, good, bad and indifferent, old and new, coarse and fine, perfect and ragged. The week's arrivals are usually put up at auction on Monday morning. The larger quantity of rugs come from the interior of Asia, and are brought down to the ports of the Mediterranean and Black sea by caravan. (Camels and horses to Smyrna and Constantinople, and the great market.) They are packed so many to the bale by sizes, and if the purchaser knows the name of the seller and the place from which they have been shipped, it gives him a slight basis upon which he can judge as to their value, but it is always more or less of a lottery, and hence the rugs bring much less than their actual value. —Correspondence Chicago Record-Herald.

Chicago's Water Supply.

In 1880 the supply of water per capita to the inhabitants of Chicago was 116 gallons daily. In 1890 it was 136 gallons. The water pipe mileage has tripled in ten years. At present Chicago's water supply is 300,000,000 gallons a day, or a rate of 160 gallons to the inhabitant. Chicago's revenue from water taxes is $3,000,000 a year. The cost of operating the water system is $2,000,000.

DON'TS FOR WIVES.

Don't make a god of a man unless you want him to make a fool of himself.

Don't treat him as if he were your master; let him keep an office boy to kick.

Don't talk too much. What you say will thus become more or less oracular.

Don't "meet him with a smile" until he wishes you'd take something for it.

Don't agree with him until he is mauled. The matrimonial system requires a certain amount of acid, only let it be wholesome.

Don't try to manage his business. He isn't making anything like the success of it that he could, with your tactics, but it is too dense to understand that.

Don't sell him. Don't bite him with sarcasm. When he is proof against reason, try gentle ridicule. He likes a little affectionate pinching.

Don't lower your standard of purity. Show no appreciation of coarse jokes. When he married you he thought you were a lady; don't let him make anything else of you.

Don't tell him it is his "own fault." He is no more infallible than you are. He probably thinks he is and you needn't contradict him. It isn't worth while. Be kind and sympathetic, always. It pays 100 cents on the dollar, anywhere, any time.

Don't visit too much, and entertain in proportion. A true man loves his home because it is the temple of domestic happiness. A true woman loves it for the same reason. The charm is lost when it becomes a visiting mart.

Don't neglect to mention occasionally that he is an unusual character, different from any you ever knew. He likes that. Always be discovering new and admirable traits. As long as you can set these out in attractive language you are sure of a hearing.

Don't fail to laugh at his jokes, to encourage his ambitions, to live within his income. Don't be petty or spiteful. Don't fret. Don't tell him you wish you hadn't married him—the chances are you don't wish it any more than he does, but neither of you will wish it if you would do by each other as you would be done by.

"More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly," are proverbs born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is specially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "live minutes for refreshments," is a habit most disastrous to the health. You may hurry your digestion, you can't hurry your digestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrow to many a busy man. When the tongue is fowl, the head aches, when there are sour or bitter risings, dullness following after, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irresolution, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion, and nutrition have "broken down." Nothing will re-establish them in active healthy operation so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, purifies the blood, and builds up the body. It is a strictly temperance medicine containing no alcohol or other intoxicant.

Given away, Dr. Pierce's great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for cloth binding, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FACTS and OBSERVATIONS

Europe to Caney, Ky., and Return.

The writer left home on Tuesday morning. After seeing the ice and electric plant at Winchester he took train for Jackson. O.G. Hadley is no longer with the Arlington. Our stay here was short; after dinner at the Arlington we went by O. & K. railroad, stopping at important points while freight was being handled. Left train at Lee City, went to Hazelgreen in buggy in time for supper at 8:30 o'clock.

Wednesday morning we mounted a horse and rode to Caney Ky., to attend a reunion of old soldiers.

THE REUNION OF CO. C., FIFTH KY. REGIMENT, C. S. A.

Was held at Caney, Ky., on Wednesday, May 14, 1902. The meeting was called to order at 10:30 a.m. in the schoolhouse by Dr. B. E. McClure who explained its object.

The address of welcome was made by Greenville Stacy; the response was by Joe C. Lykins, of Wolfe county. First Sergeant of the company. The privileges of the meeting were extended to all the old comrades and soldiers of the Spanish American war. To all these dinner was served at the Central Hotel.

The committee of arrangements was composed of men and women of the town, who contributed much to the success of the meeting and the comfort of their guests.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After dinner the veterans and those who fought for the liberation of Cuba lined up on the streets and had their pictures taken. They then assembled and effected a permanent organization by electing the following officers: Milton B. Cox, President; D. J. Lykins, Secretary; W. M. Kendall, D. C. Lykins, H. M. Barker, Frank Amber, Greenville Stacy and Joe C. Lykins, Executive Committee.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

(1.) That the name of this organization be the T. J. Henry Conveneate Association.

(2.) That a reunion shall be held annually the 14th day of May. If the 14th comes on Sunday then the meeting shall be on the 13th, and that these reunions shall continue so long as two of its members shall be living.

(3.) That the next meeting of the association shall be held at Natural Bridge, in Powell county.

(4.) That the thanks of the association be tendered the executive committee having charge the meeting, and to the town officials and citizens of Caney for their kind and hospitable entertainment.

SPANISH-AMERICAN.

Curtis B. Lykins, Green Lacy, D. S. Williams, J. F. Perkins, Geo. M. Jacob, Harlan Prater, J. T. Nickel, J. P. Haney.

There was a large crowd in town and good order prevailed.

Miss Myrtle Reed, the teacher, has been sick since February and is now with her father's family at White Oak. Her mother is also dangerously sick.

A. K. Day & Co. are building a new store and will put in a large stock of merchandise.

At the reunion we met Amos Davis, of that country. He is one of Morgan county's most influential men, and is again seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress having, like his competitor Frank Hopkins, been defeated at the last convention.

We left for Hazel Green on Thursday morning. We stopped at Nelson City, the terminus of the O. & K. Railroad, to look at the coal mines. We met Mr. Stephen Bradley, the Boss Weigher, whose home is in Winchester. He is father-in-law of Dr. I. A. Shirley, of that city.

We are indebted to Harry Vaughn, the Bank Boss, for courtesies. He took us into the mines on both sides of the ravine, explained the ventilation by means of a furnace, the plan of working and etc. For the first time we saw pneumatic machines in use by means of compressed air. A central plant down in the valley furnishes the motive power which is piped through the mines. Connection from this pipe to the machine is by a rubber hose. Each is operated by one man. It weighs about 70 lbs., with a pressure of about 80 lbs., the drill makes a stroke of about 16 in., cutting under the coal which is then shot down with powder. The coal cannel in this section is from 18 to 22 inches, with bituminous coal above. At present the working force is from 45 to 50 men.

We next stopped at Rittenhouse, where is the mine formerly owned by a Mr. Williams. This at present is not being worked, but will soon be. Jno. Schuler showed us the sights of this wonderful mine. Here the coal is full six feet thick—42 inches cannel of two qualities lying on each other and 30 inches bituminous. There is no intervening slate or waste. We walked everywhere in the mine. This mine belongs to J. S. Rittenhouse and others. Both going and returning on this trip we met J. H. Letton, of Millersburg, who has the agency for this coal in some Central Kentucky counties.

Judge J. E. Cooper, M. O. Cooksey and J. M. Bigstaff, of Mt. Sterling, have recently bought of Wm. Witt 207 acres of land adjoining the Rittenhouse land, for $4000; the indications are favorable for a 4 foot vein of coal.

At Neols we met H. C. Warmouth who recently opened a store here, having come from Clay City where he was in business as Warmouth & Rose.

We dined at the home of Wm. Davis, an aged citizen, a friend of our father in the long ago.

We spent from Thursday afternoon till Saturday morning at Hazel Green. W. O. Mize who has been in Indianapolis for some weeks returned on Thursday.

Bick work on the college building has reached the windows of third story and will be finished by 24th. It is expected that the building will be occupied early in the fall. Notice will appear in next issue concerning the closing exercises of the school.

We left Hazel Green on Saturday morning, drove 5 miles in back, to Hel-eh-chew a (excuse the name) we are not responsible for it) in time for train at 7:30 for Jackson, spent about three hours in Jackson, until 1:20. If the officials desire to change the name of that station we will not object. Really we do not know how to pronounce it. Here passengers for Hazel Green leave the road.

Passengers can leave Mt. Sterling on 5:50 a.m. train, wait at L. & E. Junction till 8:37 (or if preferred leave here at 7:12 a.m. go to Winchester and take L. & E. train there at 8:25) take dinner at Jackson and leave there at 1 p.m. for Frozen Creek, Hel-eh-e-Hel-e-haw, Canal City and intervening stations including Hazel Green. We give this for benefit of public who wish to go to any of these stations. The train service is one trip daily.

The L. & E. Railroad is an important factor in the development of Eastern Kentucky and we are pleased to see that its business is flourishing. Excursion traffic has begun.

W. W. Howe who had charge of El. Park last year is now in charge at Torront. We greeted him as the train pulled through. The formal opening ball will be given June 11th.

Two car loads of excursionists were at Natural Bridge and were picked up.

We stopped at L. & E. Junction, tramped to Scholls Hill and Hedges for our health and business and reached home on Saturday night after business hours.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP ITEMS.

E. B. Ralls, of Sharpsburg, on Friday sold to Ben Henry and John Donald, of Nicholas county, a yearling jack for $350 and a three year old jennet for $150.

R. N. Ratliff, of Sharpsburg, is buying a lot of strictly fancy mare mule colts. He has paid as high as $80.

They Accept.

By a vote of 24 to 19 the Methodist War Claim Committee reported in favor of accepting the money and sustaining the book agents. The minority report recommends returning the money to the Government and roasts Attorney Stahman.

RELIGIOUS.

Pastor W. J. Bolin will preach at Howard's Mill next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. Frank E. Cooney, of Danville, has declined a call to succeed Rev. G. C. Abbott as rector of Ascension Parish.

The topic for the Prayer Meeting at the Baptist Church Wednesday evening at 7:30 is "With Jesus in the Wilderness." A cordial invitation to all.

Dr. Len G. Broughton, of Atlanta, Georgia, preached at the First Baptist Church, Asheville, N.C., Sunday of the Southern Baptist convention meeting and at the close, more than 200 persons came forward asking for prayer.

On June 10, the County Sunday School convention will be held at Grassy Lick Church. This event is not a picnic, but a conference of Sunday School workers, all of whom are cordially invited.

The Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church, will meet at the home of Prof. Henry Gunn on Friday evening at 7:30. This will be the last meeting before the summer vacation, and every member is urged to be present.

Regular services at the First Baptist Church next Sunday morning and evening Preaching by the pastor. Subject for the morning sermon, "Four Questions concerning Baptism." Evening subject, "Jesus Christ, A. Z." We are cordially invited to be present.

This year celebrates the centennial of the organization of the Home Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church. Special services were held at the General Assembly on last Sunday, and a request made that all pastors mention the subject from their pulpits. In compliance with this request, Rev. Geo. A. Joplin preached a strong and comprehensive sermon on that subject, showing that the home mission work of the churches of the United States had much to do in shaping our government, and forming the character of our people; making this a Christian nation.

Rev. G. C. Abbott will preach his farewell services at Ascension Church Sunday morning and at the Sideview Chapel Sunday afternoon, and will enter on his duties as rector of the church at Hopkinsville in the month of June. Mr. Abbott has endeared himself to our people and the citizens of Mt. Sterling and the county are sad because of his going. For him only best wishes will be entertained.

By appointed commissioners, Rev. John E. Abbott was ordained to the gospel ministry on last Tuesday evening. Ordination sermon was preached by Rev. Wm. Cummings, of Winchester. Candidates and congregation took oaths of faithfulness in the their new relations. Rev. C. O. Groves, of Pisgah delivered the charge to pastor and Rev. Edwin Muller to the congregation. Mr. Abbott is a young man of fine temperament, deeply impressed with his call and will doubtless do much towards the betterment of mankind. With this term he will become a full graduate of the Louisville Theological school.

ATTEMPTED ARSON.

On Saturday night about midnight the little Grocery store occupied by the Simpson Brothers near depot was discovered to be on fire. The evidence of coal oil and its application to the building caused suspicion to rest on the brothers, Dan, Wick, Mat and Farris and they were arrested on Sunday. On failure to give bond they are held until this morning at 10 o'clock when the case will be considered. Some groceries were found scattered in a sink.

The insurance on stock and fixtures amounts to $200.

MARRIAGES.

JUDY BOONE.

On tonight, May 20, at the Christian church in North Middlebury, Mr. Watson Judy, son of T. J. Judy, will be married to Miss Laura Boone, grand-daughter of W. L. Huston. After a short trip they will keep house in town.

Bennett Bean and Miss Evaine Craig are the attendants, and Rev. C. W. Dick will officiate. The ushers are R. M. Gilkey, Frank Collins, John Davis, Roy McCray, Calver Mong, Clarence Kerr.

SECRET SOCIETIES

Messrs. R. S. Stokley, C. T. Wilson, R. J. Hunt, C. B. Stephens, J. D. Turley, Albert Reed, Thos. Scott and Florian Willoughby went to Owingsville Wednesday evening and assisted in the initiation of several candidates into the A. O. U. W. at that place. Owingsville Lodge is in a flourishing condition and is composed of some of the best people in Owingsville and Bath county.

Mrs. W. T. Tibbs has been sick for a week.

Robert Ecton who was shot at Winchester four weeks ago was in a dying condition on yesterday.

Report comes from Mrs. R. C. Lloyd at Chicago, that she is gaining strength and is much better.

John L. Coleman and G. L. Kirkpatrick have opened an office on the second door of the Tyler Apperson building in which do an insurance business.

Harry Hoffman has rented the second story rooms of the Apperson business house formerly occupied by ADVOCATE PUB. CO., and will use them for an office. He will do a general insurance business.

Blood.

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

DEATHS.

HARRIS.—On last Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock May 13, Raton, New Mexico, Charles A. Harris, a native of this county, yielded to the mortal death after one continuous struggle for life through a period of more than eight years. His remains were brought here Friday evening and after a short service at the home of his father, C. W. Harris, on Howard avenue and Clay street, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 by his pastor, Rev. H. D. Clark, his body was given burial in Machpelah. It was twenty-six years ago last March when the writer came to Mt. Sterling. He found Charlie Harris a round faced, three-year-old baby boy. We have known him all along these years and intimately for more than ten years. At this time when his lips have been closed in death it is a sweet privilege to testify of him. He loved the honorable man and his virtues and of all things deplorable to him none was more so than those characters which made up the disreputable man. For a friend he measured his full length and he was the real man. In the schoolroom with his mother he received a good training for life work and but for the unrelenting disease that had laid hold on him we would have stood at the top in his chosen profession, the law. Bright in mind, quick of discernment, courageous, he possessed every quality for the making of a great man. Why thus endowed and developed, with a future of brightness, he should be taken before he attained his greatest powers is not for man to solve. For years we sat at the same desk his writings were beautiful in thought and well clothed in language. His spirit was that of the upright man, resentful for the wrongs inflicted on the weaker of races. That his friends may know him of later years we append an extract from a letter written a ing here last week and looking after some business interests. He has not fully recovered from his late railroad accident.

Dr. G. W. Ewing, of Slade Ky., was in town on Monday returning from Rothwell where he had been professionally to consult with other doctors concerning R. B. Cole's child which had meningitis. The disease was fatal.

Mr. Augustus Shelburn, of Louisville, a former partner of the editor of the ADVOCATE was in the city Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Shelburn at one time represented Spencer county in the lower house of the legislature, but has risen higher in vocations and is now a commercial tourist, representing a popular make of wheeled conveyances.

Mrs. Jacob Henry left yesterday to join her family in Chicago. She will be much missed by her many friends in social circles and in religious work. Among the Mt. Sterling people now in that city we recall the names of Zach Turley, Clarence Gilkey, Will Turley, James McKee and family, Jacob Henry, Chas. Henry and family, Misses Nedie Tucker, Asenca McKee and Eva Bruton and Lorain Turley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McClure and son, of Winchester; L. R. Greene and son, of Bramblett; J. H. Mark, of Paris; Mrs. John Gilkey and Miss Anna Skillman; Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Gilkey, of North Middle town; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mark; Jason Mark, J. H. Stone, of Owingsville; Mr. and Mrs. James of Bethel; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane and daughter, of Stepstone; R. J. Ratliff and wife, of Sharpsburg, and B. F. Mark and wife, of Slatyview, attended the funeral of Mrs. H. L. Lane Saturday.

BLIND WOMEN

If one woman saw another woman who was blind going about her with doubtful and uncertain steps, the natural womanly impulse would be to take her by the hand and guide her. It is a similar womanly impulse which leads the women who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to give their testimony to the cures they have experienced, in the hope and desire that it may be of help to some other suffering woman.

There are thousands of women groping their way blindfold, with hesitating and uncertain steps, toward the much desired goal of health. To such women are stretched out the guiding, helpful hands of those who have attained womanly health, to lead them to their desired haven. Let every woman who suffers from womanly diseases and who reads these letters remember that they point to a path of healing which is so sure that only one woman in fifty who uses "Favorite Prescription" falls into infirmity and permanent cure.

"I was sick for over two years when my doctor said was inflammation of the ovaries," writes Mrs. J. Curlett, of Main Street, Weston, York Co., Ont. "Another doctor did not understand me case. One day I received one of your little cards and after reading it thought I would write you and see if you could do me any good. I wrote you and put one foot before the other when I wrote, and could not possibly stand up straight. I could not really describe what I suffered; pain in my head, back, and limbs, as though every portion of my body had something the matter with it. After writing to you I received a very kind letter indeed, telling me what treatment to use. I followed your advice and can say to-day that my health is better than before my wife. I took both 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medicinal Discovery.' You may know it certainly made a great change in my looks, when, one day after taking the medicine, I chanced to meet our family doctor and said, 'Mrs. J. Curlett is well, having a great deal better than you did some time ago.' When the doctor said anything like that you know that it must be a wonderful change, for, as a general rule, they try to keep people sick. I am now in full health again. Dr. R. V. Pierce's treatment is God- whatever, no man who may be, will write to him I am positive that he will find one that is good. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicine to quite a few and they ever continue to do so, for I know from experience what they are."

The results which follow the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are positive, not negative—permanent, not transient. It would be a great relief to a suffering woman if she could be helped so as not to feel helpless. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes her feel positively well. Some women would be happy if they didn't have to suffer all the time. "Favorite Prescription" cures them so that they do not suffer any of the time. They are made well. They feel well. They look well. Good looks and bad health never go together. The very fountain of beauty is health. When the womanly organism is diseased the general health is undermined. The skin loses its healthful tint and becomes yellowish, brownish, the dragging step keeps pace with the languor of the body. Many womanly diseases are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the skin regains its hue of health, the body sets on flesh and the light, elastic step keeps time and time to the buoyant feeling of vigorous health.

"With pleasure I send a few lines to let you know that I feel much better than for eight years before taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. Pierce Geese, of 322 East Phila. Street, York, Pa. "We recommend Dr. R. V. Pierce's medicine to every person who may inquire as to what it has done for me. I am truly grateful for the help it has given me. I continued the treatment prescribed by my doctor. I don't know what would have become of me if my treatment was commenced my weight was 108 pounds; at present it is 130. Have healthy color, and my friends say I look well. My best thanks to you and best wishes, too, for what you have done for me."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is the best tonic and nerve for weak, run-down women. It cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and promotes a healthy appetite.

Dr. Pierce invites sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, to consult him by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's favorite prescription has taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, and Mrs. Curlett only gives us the frank sentiment expressed by those grateful women when she writes in her honest slovenly: "I really think that Dr. R. V. Pierce's treatment is a God-send to all women, and if any one ailing from any female trouble whatever, no matter what it may be, will write to him I am positive they will find one that is good. I have been recommended Dr. Pierce's medicine to quite a few and they ever continue to do so, for I know from experience what they are."

Sometimes a dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious preparations, will offer a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" as "just as good." Judged by its record of cures of womanly ills, there is no other medicine just as good as "Favorite Prescription."

AN INTERRUPTED VISIT.

Why Margaret Did Not Make a longer stay in the Country.

"Why, Margaret, how glad we were to see you!" exclaimed Margaret, as she welcomed her friend into her cozy rooms. "But I thought you were to stay in the country several weeks?"

"I did intend to," said Margaret, as she dropped into the most comfortable seat, "but I was driven home. I have had such an experience!"

"What has happened?"

"Why, you see, Aunt Margaret had been begging me to come out to Brownville and visit her. Being an orphan and boarding as I do, she doesn't see why I can't spend more time with her. The truth is, I dread my visits to her. She always catechizes me as to my male friends; then, after securing a list, she looks up their incomes and their ancestry, selects the eligibles and follows with a dissertation on the folly of a girl wasting her best years in single life. She began this summer after I left school and has kept it up ever since."

"How many days did you stay?" asked her friend.

Margaret ignored the remark.

"And so when she began writing to me this spring about spending the summer with her, I thought I'd expedite matters by a little ruse of my own. I didn't wish to spend the summer, neither did I wish to displease auntie, so I wrote her I would be there at once—that I was going to surprise her. My idea was to get my visit over so I could be free the remainder of the season to do as I liked. I packed my trunk and was all ready to leave when Mabel Dickinson came in and insisted that I spend the day shopping with her. I yielded to her entreaties, left word with the landlady to send my trunk on by express, dropped a note with my key to Aunt Margaret, asking her to unpack my trunk—one's gowns get so wrinkled, you know, and saying I would be there the next day. It was either that or unpack my trunk and then repack it the next day, and that seemed easier. Had I only known!"

"Do go on, dear."

"You see, Mr. Wintimer occupied rooms just across from mine, and he had his trunk packed ready to move to the North side. The landlady went out during the day and left word with the servant to see to the trunks. The expressman called, and through some bungling took Mr. Wintimer's trunk and expressed it to Aunt Margaret and sent mine to Mr. Wintimer's new rooms."

"And your gowns were ruined?"

"Oh, no, nothing so simple. Aunt Margaret opened the trunk, according to directions, and seeing a man's silk hat, dress suit and other articles, jumped to the conclusion that I had been married and was coming down on my honeymoon to surprise her. She carefully hung Mr. Wintimer's clothes in the closet and arranged his toilet articles. Then she joyfully set out to tell the neighbors. They came in droves and went to work. Such a baking and stewing and decorating as took place you never heard of out of a country home. You see, I was born in that village, and all the dear old ladies wanted to do something for dear Madge's wedding reception."

"Imagine my feelings when I stepped off the train in stout boots, short skirts and raglan, carrying a bulging shopping bag, to be met by a carriage and a throng of people dressed in gala attire! I looked about expecting to see some notable who had arrived on the same train. Auntie stared over her glasses, under them and through them.

"Where—where is she?" she demanded at last.

"Aunt! Who? I demanded at last. 'Your husband,' she faltered. 'I wish I knew,' I answered.

"Then it dawned on her that there had been some mistake. She hurried me into the carriage, the mystery was unraveled and the disappointed crowd melted away.

"As soon as the trunk difficulty got straightened out, and I could manage it, I returned to the city. You see, Mr. Wintimer also has friends in Brownville, and I learned that he is expected down to-night. Of course he will hear all about it, and—I fled."

"But, after all, Madge," said her friend, meditatively, "there is a great deal in the power of suggestion, and I wouldn't be at all surprised."

"Yes, thank you, two lumps," said Margaret, and abruptly changed the subject.—Chicago Daily News.
